Deserters stated that the artillery battalion of the definition of the division in Eggesin, the bulk of which as stationed in Premnitz, was stationed in Rathenow. Only the tank attalion of the division in Eggesin remained in its quarters in Karin southeast of Eggesin during the winter. As Fremnitz and Rathenow ere provided for as winter quarters only, it may be true that elements of the 2d mechanized Regt transferred to the area of Eggesin in late arch. Information on the transfer of ther elements of the mechanized livision in Eggesin from their winter quarters was contained in It is doubted that components of the 2d Mecz Regt should have been moved from Premnitz and Rathenow to Burg and Leipzig respective.	25>
